Digital Media Designer

about me

Hello ...

I'm Hassi. You can call me Hassi (or Hass, if you like it short).

I'm a digital designer focused on visually strong, meaningful work. I enjoy clean layouts, bold typography, and thoughtful details that make designs feel intentional and engaging. My work lives between branding, visual design, and storytelling, creating designs that feel clear, balanced, and modern—built to communicate with purpose and leave a lasting impression.
